

Your first free lesson, step by step.

Learn any desktop app with a voice tutor that speaks each step, circles the exact control on your screen, and checks your work.

What you need (5 minutes)

1. A Windows or Mac computer and a free iProfessor account at iprofessor.live
2. The free desktop viewer installed - one click from your account page
3. Your speakers or headphones on, so the tutor can talk you through it

How a lesson feels

- The tutor speaks one clear step at a time - what to do, where, and why.
- A soft guide-circle highlights the exact button or field on your screen.
- You do the clicking. iProfessor never takes over your mouse.
- Before moving on, the AI checks your screen and confirms it worked.

THE WALKTHROUGH

Try your first lesson in six steps

1. Pick a lesson

Open the lesson catalog and choose one - for example a Windows 11 basics lesson or a CRM workflow.

2. Launch the viewer

The desktop viewer opens your workspace and places the guide-circle over the first step.

3. Listen

The tutor narrates the step aloud. Use the voice settings to change the voice, speed, or volume.

4. Do it yourself

Follow the circle and perform the action in the real app. Take your time - nothing advances without you.

5. Get verified

iProfessor looks at your screen. If the step is done you hear a chime; if not, you get a gentle spoken hint.

6. Finish & review

Complete every step to finish the lesson. Re-run it any time - repetition is free on your plan's allowance.

Good to know

- Stuck on a step? Say or press 'Re-check screen' - or skip it and come back.
- The free plan includes a generous hourly voice allowance; Pro removes the limit.
- iProfessor guides you but never controls your mouse or types for you.
